From Wisconsin.

NEW RICHMOND, Wis., May 2, 1905.
EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—As you requested me to drop you a short article for your paper setting forth our many grievances, we will do so now. We left Forest county with a first-class article of rheumatism with good staying qualities. We dropped off at Oil City on Friday and remained with friends until the following Monday, when we bid adieu to the greasy city and headed westward by the Michigan Southern Railroad, which dropped us off at Ashland, where our troubles commenced, and commenced in this way. We boarded an excursion train of eight cars, full of homeseekers going west, eight coaches all full, all having a grand, good old time. We had one lady 93 years old on board. She was from the state of New York going to Washington to grow up with the country. She is taking her daughter and a bevy of grandchildren along with her and if the country agrees with her she is going to send back for her great grandchildren, whom she says are nearly as numerous as the leaves on trees, so you see that the prospects are good for settlers in Washington. And what is still more encouraging, the lady herself expects to renew her age when she gets out there. The people on the train seem to be all well acquainted and there begins to be some talk of all joining together and colonizing a town in Washington. There are farmers, tradesmen, ministers, doctors, lawyers, and men of all professions. I quietly took in the situation and discovered the entire crowd was without a judge. Here I saw my chance to make a point and was soon approached by a self-constituted committee to inquire into my distinction, politics and profession. After some pretensions of modesty I told them that for many years I had been judge of the supreme court of Forest county. This gave me distinction at once and I noticed quite a difference in their treatment of me right away, and whenever an argument or discussion arose on the train it was always referred to me for decision. You can see by this I am getting along finely and we are not half way to St. Paul yet. It is hard to predict what my title would be if I continued through to the Pacific Coast. We are just at Toledo and the colored porter has gone to the butcher shop for a ten cent soup bone for dinner in the Pullman cafe. These colored cooks on the train have no regard for expense anyway. We are now at Oberlin. This is the town that Cassie Chadwick made the popular donation for a "Bankers' Asylum." Cassie's liberality "beats them all." We will remain here a short time for the through mail train to pass. This will give us a little more time to talk up our colonization work. Again "all aboard." There is a heated discussion now in progress in relation to the Japanese and Russian war, and we don't seem to be as united as we were. One fellow asserts that the Yankees are always poking their noses into everything, and says he, "Just look at Cuba; how Uncle Sam nosed in and got us in a war with Spain; and how the American fleet had made a most wanton destruction of the Spanish fleet on Sunday morning at Santiago, and further that the ministers had abandoned prayers and helped clear the decks for action, and Commodore Schley used bad cuss words." The discussion got so hot that one of the able attorneys proposed submitting it to the court of course that meant me. We summoned up as much dignity as the case would admit without injury to the learned judge physically. The first point taken was that Spain was the aggressor, having blown up an American warship in Cuban waters. Second, that Admiral Cervera sailed his fleet outside the harbor between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock when he was well aware that divine service was in progress at that hour. Third, it was against the rules of all war vessels to allow any one to disturb religious worship by firing guns or otherwise. Fourth, that Admiral Cervera could plainly see the blue flag with the cross upon it hoisted high above the stars and stripes which indicated to all the fleet crews that divine worship was in progress. And lastly, Capt. Bob Evans should have kept out of the way of the flagship without being sworn at when Commodore Schley was so anxious to have a private interview before Cervera got too far out into the ocean. Our able decision brought the whole car load down with hand clapping and applause. Now, do you know what these anti-administration fellows did? Why, they went to the other end of the car and called the Republican administration all the low, mean and dirty names they could think of, and even wanted the newsboy to get them Webster's dictionary to see if they could find something mean to call the president and his cabinet.

Chicago! Change cars for Wisconsin Central and Illinois depot. Another half hour to talk up colonization. All aboard! Oh, krant! We have got on a regular windy city dude; see his wavy black hair and parted in the middle. Ain't he the dandy? Just watch those Portville, N. Y., girls. They will soon have him on the string. Milwaukee! The city of Phil Best's best beer. By the way, Mr. Editor, do you know that last year's statistics at Washington, D.C., show that we Yankees consumed one billion four hundred and ninety-four million gallons of beer? Say, don't that beat the Dutch? And one hundred and twenty-one millions of whiskey. Now, just ask Pat if that don't beat the Irish. Next station Fondulac. The dude and the Portville girls are having a game of euchre and the blindest noddist set I have ever seen. Oh, what laughing and hallooing over a game of cards. So much noise I can't write. Stephen's Point! The court has been compelled to christen the car party "the noisy four" and any one calling or recognizing them by any other name will be fined for contempt and be imprisoned in the ladies' toilet room. I see that our colonization scheme is going to fall through. If so, that means I must go to work. Strange how some men are, they will rush where they hear the loudest noise, and it doesn't matter if some long-eared animal makes the noise either. Here comes Attorney Jenkins, of Rochester, and Bob Taylor, of Middletown, Pa. I suppose they are coming to inquire why Roosevelt had not recognized my ability and appointed me to the supreme bench. Well, we had a wayward fellow who in an early day settled in Iowa. His ability was soon recognized and he was elected to the United States Senate and it is said that he has served there for the past thirty-six years. It is thought that Roosevelt consulted him and the Senator turned me down. You see he told the President that I had already passed my sixtieth birthday and that Dr. Osler was liable to chloroform me at any time and he would have the place to fill again. You see when the Senator and I were boys and played the hay-mow games of old sledge and caught he used to sometimes say that I kept a Jack or an ace up my sleeve and that was the reason why I beat him. This was long before the "church people" began to have eucure parties and our parents thought it was naughty to play cards. I think the Senator has a grievance at me and turned me down for the judgeship, but if the President should see this able letter I think I might get a clerkship in the dead letter office yet.

Yours Truly, F. E. A.

Case Was Non-Suited.

A case in which Forest county people were interested came to a conclusion in the Venango courts last week. It was the case of Joseph B. Erb vs. J. C. Bowman and Charles E. Birtell, which involved the ownership of a tract of oil producing land in Allegheny township. The Derrick's report says the evidence, as adduced by the plaintiff, was to the effect that Mr. Erb "squatted" on the land 24 years ago and remained in possession until a little more than a year ago, his claim to ownership being based, therefore, upon his having occupied it for a period of 21 years. Counsel for the defense contended that unless the plaintiff had occupied the land for 21 years under some claim of right he was not entitled to it, and this he had not done. Upon this ground the Court granted the defendant's motion for a non-suit. Osmer & Sons represented the plaintiff in this case, while P. M. Speer and R. F. Glenn were counsel for the defense.

—There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

GAS KILLS TWO; SCORES HURT.

Big Holder Collapses at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Two men were killed, one was fatally injured and two score others were more or less seriously burned Friday by the collapse of an immense gas holder at the Point Breeze works of the United Gas Improvement in the southern part of the city. The dead men are George H. Whalen, a tin roofer, and James Ogilvie, his assistant. Owen Brady, an employee of the gas company, was fatally injured.

The gas holder collapsed from some unknown cause and the great volume of gas which the holder contained exploded with such force that buildings within a radius of half a mile were shaken.

When the holder collapsed Whalen and Ogilvie were at work on a small building nearby. It is believed that when the gas escaped from the holder it was ignited by the tinner's furnace, causing a great flame.

There were more than 50 men a short distance from the tank, and nearly all of them were either badly burned or scorched before they could escape from the fire zone.

Whalen and Ogilvie were so badly burned that they died in a few minutes.

Sergeant Murdered by Burglar.

Erie, Pa., May 15.—Police Sergeant James Higgins, who has been in service 22 years, was murdered about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, while arresting a burglar, who was coming out of the Central School building. He had been sent alone to investigate a report that a suspicious man had been prowling around the building. The stranger fired three shots, all of which took effect. Higgins died in about an hour. Mayor Saltzman has offered a personal reward of $200, and to this amount the city and county will add $2,000 today. Reports from Girard, where the burglar is said to have jumped off a fast train after making his escape, indicate that he had an accomplice who waited for him in an automobile.

Five Unidentified Bodies Buried.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 15.—Brief services were held over the charred bodies of the five unidentified victims of the South Harrisburg disaster in the Market Square Presbyterian church. At the close of the services the caskets were borne to the Paxtang cemetery, where a resting place had been selected. One body was identified as that of William E. Holmes of Philadelphia. All of the injured at the Harrisburg hospital except Joseph Eberle of New York, Harold D. Elfrith of Philadelphia and S. W. Anderson of Pittsburgh are doing well.

Tindles at Knox Home.

Valley Forge, Pa., May 15.—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tindle of Pittsburgh, who were passengers on the Cleveland express, wrecked at Harrisburg, are now at the summer home of the latter's father, Senator P. C. Knox, here. Both were suffering from their experience. Mr. Tindle in particular, suffered from shock and exposure. Mr. and Mrs. Tindle will remain at Valley Forge for several days and then resume their journey to Pittsburgh.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Hartland, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes, "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by Dunn & Fulton.
